LETTER FROM THE CONFERENCE CHAIR

Dear Friends and Colleagues,

On behalf of the Program Committee and the Organizing Committees, I welcome you to the 14th ACM International Conference on PErvasive Technologies Related to Assistive Environments, PETRA 2021, taking place June 29 – July 01, 2021. This year the conference will be virtual due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Originally to take place on the majestic island of Corfu, travel uncertainties and travel restrictions made us decide to conduct it virtually again for the second year in a row.

As PETRA is an interdisciplinary conference with focus on pervasive technologies that improve the quality of life and enhance human experience and performance, the 14th PETRA will take place virtually and in real-time using the interactive platform called Underline.

In spite of its virtual occurrence, PETRA 2021 has 113 submissions from 27 countries and 120 registrations. Paper acceptance included 27 full papers, 7 short papers, 10 poster and Late Breaking Report (LBR) papers and 9 demo papers and ten workshops. Like all previous years, the US National Science Foundation (NSF) has supported the conference with a Doctoral Consortium (DC) award that enabled the DC committee to offer support to 20 student authors, from different universities, 3 of them female. In addition, several accepted papers have undergraduate student coauthors, supported by the REU (Research Experiences for Undergraduates) NSF program. This year, PETRA 2021 distinguishes papers with six types of awards: Best Technical Paper, Best Paper for Novelty, Best Student Paper, Best Poster Paper, Best Demo Paper, and Best Workshop Paper.

This year, the conference theme of “PErvasive Technologies Related to Assistive Environments” takes a special meaning at this unique time in a world that is gripped by a pandemic crisis and as scientific results introduce new assistive technologies designed to meet emerging human needs. Indeed, many of PETRA’s AI based methods show compelling social applications to help build, stone by stone (PETRA means stone in Greek), new ways of life to survive in an increasingly challenging world. Results range from basic research in computer vision, machine learning, data mining, human robot interaction, and big data, to engineering applications in robotics, sensors, devices, wearables and software solutions that address physical, cognitive, and mental human performance and monitoring. The conference addresses the needs of both healthy individuals and persons with special needs, such as providing safe in-home care for the elderly, or persons with Dementia, Alzheimer’s, Parkinson’s, chronic arthritis, PTSD, low vision, autism, COPD, Traumatic Brain Injury, and other conditions.

We hope that PETRA 2021 provides its participants a scientific impetus and stimulant to address the diverse human needs that the COVID-19 health crisis has brought, as well as new opportunities to showcase new research and to network. We truly appreciate your participation and look forward to seeing you all in person in PETRA 2022!

Wishing you a happy and safe summer,

Fillia Makedon

Invited Speakers

Antonis Argyros is a Professor of Computer Science at the Computer Science Department (CSD), University of Crete (UoC) and a researcher at the Institute of Computer Science (ICS), Foundation for Research and Technology-Hellas (FORTH) in Heraklion, Crete, Greece. Since 1999, as a member of the Computational Vision and Robotics Laboratory (CVRL) of ICS-FORTH, he has been involved in several European and national RTD projects on computer vision, pattern recognition, image analysis and robotics. His current research interests fall in the areas of computer vision and pattern recognition, with emphasis on the analysis of humans in images and videos, human pose analysis, recognition of human activities and gestures, 3D computer vision, as well as image motion and tracking. He is also interested in applications of computer vision in the fields of robotics and smart environments. In these areas, he has published several research papers in scientific journals and refereed conference proceedings and has delivered invited talks in international events, universities and research centers. Antonis Argyros has served in the organizing and program committees of several international vision, graphics and robotics conferences and in the editorial boards of computer vision, image analysis and robotics journals.

Dean J. Krusienski received the B.S., M.S., and Ph.D. degrees in electrical engineering from The Pennsylvania State University, University Park, PA, USA. He conducted postdoctoral research in the Brain-Computer Interface Laboratory, Wadsworth Center of the New York State Department of Health. He is currently a Professor and Graduate Program Director in the Department of Biomedical Engineering at Virginia Commonwealth University (VCU), Richmond, VA, USA, where he directs the Advanced Signal Processing in Engineering and Neuroscience (ASPEN) Lab. His research interests include brain-computer interfaces, neural signal analysis, machine-learning, and applications to virtual/augmented reality. His lab has received support from NSF, NIH, and NIA/NASA.

Magda Tsolaki was born in Thessaloniki, Greece and studied Medicine and Theology at the Aristotle University of Thessaloniki (AUTH). Afterwards, she initiated her collaboration with AUTH in 1982 as scientific collaborator and a year later received her specialty as a Neuropsychiatrist and her PhD. She has been a Professor of Neurology since 2010, and currently she was the Head of the 1st University Department of Neurology (2017-2020) where she was committed to her clinical, educational and research work. Since November 2020 she is working also at Euromedica General Clinic. In 2004, she was invited as a visiting professor at the Boston University, Massachusetts, USA. She has founded the Greek Alzheimer Association in 1995 and the Greek Federation of Alzheimer's Disease (AD) in 2007, in which she is up to today the Chair, while also being the scientific director of two Public Dementia Units (founded by her in 2007 and 2009) for outpatients with Neurodegenerative diseases and their caregivers. The last five years she was invited to join as a member the Greek National Observatory for Dementia. She has given more than 656 lectures throughout Greece. She has participated in more than 60 funded research programmes and 31 funded clinical trials. In total, she has received 73 awards. Dr. Magda Tsolaki has been the main author of many Books (60), many abstracts in Greek (531) and International (489) Conferences, she is the first author or co-author in many Papers in Greek (285) and International Journals (496 - 403 in PubMed), (h-index=80 and more than 30.000 Citations in Google Scholar). She has participated as invited speaker in more than 105 meetings-conferences in English and 256 in Greek Language. Furthermore, she has been a reviewer for Conferences and Journals (430) and has organised 27 national and 5 international conferences on AD. Finally, she was one of the three or seven advisory members for 32 doctoral theses-completed. Pr. Tsolaki is married with four children and ten grandchildren.
